FOUR UMPIRES, TWELVE DOCTORS, ONE AMBULANCE

Elks and Eagles to Take Every Precaution When They Battle at Casino Lot.

Four umpires, twelve doctors and at least one ambulance will be pressed into service by the Elks and Eagles when they clash at baseball on the Casino lot in the near future for the benefit of the St. Joseph Charles Memorial Guild. City Sergeant E. W. Milstead will be the chief "umps" and is to appoint three assistants. The doctors will be on hand to repair any damage that may be done to the anatomy of the players. Those who collapse while running the bases will be carried away in the ambulance. The committee that has charge of the game will meet this week to perfect arrangements. Already there's a scrap on, this being brought about by the fact that George Loesh is both an Elk and an Eagle. The Elks want him to hold down the same position for them. The committee will flip a coin to see whether he's a "bird" or a "horned animal."

TROOPS READY TO MOVE.

Striking Tannery Employees in Wisconsin on Warpath.

(By Associated Press.)

KENOSHA, WIS., July 22.—State troops at Milwaukee are in readiness tonight to proceed at once to this city in event of any recurrence of the rioting which broke out here today, when the N. R. Allen Sons Company reopened its tannery plant, the employees of which had been on strike.

Since the rioting this morning in which three persons were shot no serious disturbance has occurred. General Otto H. Falk, in charge of the state troops, was on the ground and declared that at the first sign of further rioting he would order a troop of cavalry and two regiments of infantry to the scene.

The rioting today began when the guards attempted to disperse strikers who gathered in numbers about the entrance of the plant to jeer at two hundred or more men who remained at work. The guards drew their revolvers and charged the mob, firing in the air. One of the strikers was injured, probably fatally.

The shooting quelled hostilities, but a few minutes later another riot occurred on the street. The police had made an arrest and were about to put their man in a patrol wagon when the strikers attacked them. In the fight that followed two strikers were shot through the legs. A large number of guards are on duty at the tannery and they and the loyal employees are housed in the building. Today's disturbance interrupted a conference in which negotiations for settlements of the strike were in progress.

The strike was the outgrowth of demands yesterday for the removal of an objectionable foreman and increase of 50 cents a week in pay. Both of these concessions the tannery officials say were agreed to, whereupon a new demand for one dollar a week increase was made. This was refused. Nearly all the employees are Lithuanians, Poles or Hungarians.

NIGHT RIDERS BUSY.

Two Kentucky Farmers Taken From Their Homes and Whipped.

(By Associated Press.)

BROWNSVILLE, KY., July 22.—Mrs. William Harris, of Harris settlement, this county, came to town today with the report that her husband, James Harris, his brother, and Sol Gross his brother-in-law, had each been taken from their homes last night and whipped.

She said the men had expected a visit from the alleged "night riders" responsible for the whipping and had barricaded the door, but ineffectually.

Stonebruike Fatal.

RICHMOND, VA., July 22.—Tetanus, from which he had suffered several days as a result of bruising one of his feet on a stone about three or four weeks ago, caused the death of Ray Belmont, about 13 years old, at Taylor's crossing, Hanover county, yesterday.

Peyser says now is the time.

OFFICERS DON'T AGREE

Remarkable Variance in Testimony of Witnesses in Sutton Inquiry.

AS TO LOCATION OF THE WOUND

Surgeon Says Ball Entered Top of Lieutenant's Head, Commandant Says It Was on Side—Willing Obstinate on the Stand.

(By Associated Press.)

ANNAPOLIS, MD., July 22.—The remarkable variance in the testimony of some of the naval officers who are witnesses before the court of inquiry which is investigating the circumstances surrounding the death of Lieutenant James N. Sutton at the naval academy two years ago, was emphasized at today's hearing by contradictory evidence as to the location of the bullet wound which caused the young Oregonian's death. This question has assumed importance in the face of other evidence given, as it would appear that it would have been a much more difficult matter for Sutton to have shot himself, lying prone upon the ground with three men on top of him if the bullet entered the top of his head, as it did according to Surgeon George Pickrell, in charge of the marine hospital at that time, who examined Sutton's body.

Colonel Charles A. Doyen, commandant of marines at that time and who holds the same post now, testified that he examined Sutton's body immediately after the shooting, felt the wound in his head, and that it was located on the right side, a little behind and on a line with the top of the ear.

Dr. Pickrell thought Sutton might have inflicted the wound upon himself, as he described it, but he made an unconvincing and awkward demonstration in court with the revolver and a free right arm, to get the weapon in a position which would have sent the bullet into his head at the point where he testified it entered Sutton's head.

Considerable progress was made at the hearing today and three more witnesses were disposed of. Besides Surgeon Pickrell and Colonel Doyen's testimony, Mr. Davis, counsel for Sutton's mother and sister, finished the examination of Lieutenant Willing, who was also on the stand yesterday.

Willing made an obstinate and unsatisfactory witness. The few discrepancies which Mr. Davis drew from him by reading the record of his description of the scene of the shooting at the former inquiry were readily conceded by Lieutenant Willing, with the remark that he testified from the best of his recollection on both occasions.

Mr. Davis tried to find out from all the witnesses today what became of Sutton's two revolvers following the shooting. Colonel Doyen testified that he seized them and ordered Lieutenant Willing to take charge of them, but he did not know what became of them until they finally got into his hands at the inquest.

It was apparent no one of the officers wanted to assume the responsibility of having the weapons about him immediately after the shooting.

Another Discrepancy.

Sergeant James De Hart, of the marine corps, the last witness at today's session testified that some officer at the scene of the shooting handed him a revolver with the cut command to "Take this." He admitted that on the night in question he was "slightly under the influence of liquor." He was positive, however, that he was not one of the men sitting on Lieutenant Sutton and trying to hold him down. Lieutenant Bevan previously testified he was. He was making his way to camp by "a back entrance" when he met Sutton prior to the shooting.

De Hart said that Sutton carried two revolvers and that he, (De Hart), did not stop to talk with him long. The witness did not know about the tannery Sutton had had in camp, but thought something was up when he saw the two guns. Soon afterward De Hart heard the shots and ran back to the scene of the shooting.

Mr. Davis had not finished cross-examining De Hart when at 4 o'clock court adjourned for the day.

Was Native of Richmond.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, July 22.—William R. Riordan for many years a reporter on the New York Evening Post, died here today after a long illness. Riordan was 48 years old and a native of Richmond, Va. Before joining the staff of the Evening Post, he had been engaged in newspaper work in Washington.
